

Brownfield Redevelopment Success Story

Sacramento Street Rail Station

The original passenger train depot was built in 1907 and operated until 1971.

Brownfield Site

When passenger trains stopped serving Lodi in 1971, the depot was closed and sat idle until restoration efforts began in 1999.

Multimodal Transit Center

After three years of restoration, the depot was reopened in 2002 and passenger rail service returned to Lodi for the first time in 31 years!
